OPENING CONVOCATION — SEPTEMBER, 1979

by John W. Ragle
Headmaster

In the early morning of Wednesday, September 12, just prior to the meetings of the first classes for 1979-80, Headmaster Ragle addressed the entire school — 330 students and 45 faculty members — and keyed the year in these words:

Generally what strikes a first-time visitor to Governor Dummer, especially during the summer when the student body is away, are the campus, the setting, the marshes, the woods, the fields, the buildings uncrowded and seeming to fit in with one another.

Caught between the Mill River on the south and the Parker to the north, winding their ways through the marshland to the ocean five miles eastward, the Academy is favored with one of the loveliest settings of any school in New England. But when I say "setting," I am talking not about the school, but the container within which the school exists.

The relationship between the setting and the school is, for example, somewhat like that between the White House in Washington and the Presidency. The stateliness and the beauty of the White House are impressive — but we have had weak Presidents and strong Presidents: very often the quality that the phrase "The White House" conveys is a function of the lives and actions of those who are currently occupying it.

Again, it is as with a church building. Religion is not the cathedral; it is not even the denomination, like Catholicism or Methodism. It is a way of life stemming from the beliefs of those who embrace it. The church, whether a building or an institution, is simply a container: no matter how majestic, how beautiful, it cannot dictate the health or the vitality of people's beliefs and the way they lead their lives.

I should like you to apply this picture to a school, to this Academy — and, in a few moments, to this year and to yourselves.

What the first-time visitor to Governor Dummer sees is a good place for a school to happen. Until he looks deeper at us, however, and observes what we do with our lives together and our work, he cannot evaluate whether or not this is a good school.

Look for a moment beneath the surface: it is not hard to recognize the talent and — as those of you who have been here know — the diversity of the faculty, with many varied interests and representing a wide range of experience. That is a beginning.

Last summer some Governor Dummer boys helped Mr. Champoux and Mr. Kirkpatrick, working on the Buildings and Grounds crew. Doug Minster, Doug and Stu Cawley, Geoff and Steve Wall, and Chris Stafford discovered, in a way in which few of us have the opportunity to do, just how much one part of the staff does for the school. Faculty families (some of you will get pretty close to campus children during the year), office personnel — even the awesome population of campus dogs! — all combine to form part of the framework within which the school year progresses. Yet in and of themselves, they are not the Academy.

What really controls the kind of school Governor Dummer is, how good a school it is, is the interaction of all that I have described — with, of course, at the center you, the student body. The character of Governor Dummer is not permanent, guaranteed, unchanging. The Academy in any one year takes a significant part of its image and its strength from we who make up the community and the ways in which we conduct our lives and carry out our responsibilities.

It is true that externally this is a beautiful place. It is up to us to appreciate that and keep it that way. But if we abuse what lies beneath the surface — the obvious things like the insides of the buildings and, beyond these, the opportunities that exist here, the beauty counts for little.

That the faculty and staff have talent counts for little unless they use it, share it — and unless you take good advantage of it.

To return to the image of the container, one may possess a cup of beautiful workmanship, a delicate bone china cup or an intricately crafted chalice — but what is inside? Is it empty, offering nothing to him who picks it up? Or is it, on closer examination, chipped from careless or unthinking handling? Or are the insides crusted or mouldy from overuse and lack of attention? Are the contents flat and stale, or sparkling, pure, nourishing, refreshing? Who has been using it? How well? And for what?

What all this comes down to is that this is our school, all together — with, at the center, you the student body, for whom it exists. In determining how good a school it is, you play a key part. If observers comment that we are a friendly school — and many in the recent past have said so — it is largely because of how you and your predecessors have treated them. If colleges recognize our graduates as well prepared and attractive to them, it is because of the individual goals our alumni set for themselves while they were here, as well as the goals toward which we continue to work collectively.

How good a year will 1979-1980 be for Governor Dummer? That is very largely in your hands, dependent upon the goals you recognize and the goals you accept. It is not always easy, and it will involve stamina and much work along the way — and fun, too.

The year is in our hands — all of us together.

"DOCTOR DAN"

Retires from Bowdoin

After 33 years as the Chief Physician for Bowdoin College, Dan Hanley '35 has announced his retirement effective as of June, 1980.

A long-time leader in the world Olympic movement and an internationally known expert on the treatment of athletic injuries, Dr. Hanley says he has no immediate plans, but intends to be active in some capacity as a physician.

A former Chief Physician for several U.S. Olympic teams, Dan Hanley is the U.S. Representative to and a permanent member of the medical commission of the International Olympic Committee and Deputy Chairman of the International Association of Olympic Medical Officers. If the summer games take place as scheduled, Dan will have spent much of this year in the Soviet Union in preparation for the Olympics.

One of the most popular members of the Bowdoin faculty, "Dr. Dan" has won numerous honors. In 1961 the town of Brunswick held a testimonial dinner at which area residents paid affectionate tribute to his many contributions to the community and to his fellow citizens. In that same year he was honored at Governor Dummer as one of our most outstanding graduates. In 1971 he won the Bowdoin Alumni Council's Award for "service and devotion to Bowdoin," and in 1977 he was inducted into the Maine Sports Hall of Fame.

For years an active Chairman for the class of '35, Dan has served the Academy well. Though he will not be able to attend his 45th Reunion this spring, we wish him well with his duties for the Olympic Committee.

ALLIES OFF TO ACTIVE START

After starting out the new school year by welcoming freshman parents to an opening day cook-out on the Phillips lawn, the Governor Dummer Allies met on September 12th for an organizational meeting. They combined business with pleasure by picnicking at the Morgan Tower overlooking the Parker River marshes. The Allies, a support group for the Academy, has been actively supporting the school since 1910.

New officers for the year are President Mrs. A. Mackay-Smith of Ipswich, Vice President Mrs. Josiah H. Welch of Newburyport, Secretary Mrs. Albert J. Kurtz of Exeter, N.H., and Treasurer Mrs. William H. Sperry of Hampton, N.H. Other board members include Mrs. Thomas M. Tindall, Mrs. Paul D. Cavanagh, Mrs. Edward J. Rybicki, and Mrs. Michael A. Moonves of Newbury; Mrs. Hugh F. Cawley and Mrs. James J. Shula of West Newbury; Mrs. John F. Cole of Haverhill, Mrs. Scott D. Lothrop of Georgetown, Mrs. Charles G. Freeman of Essex, Mrs. William T. Evans of Newburyport, Mrs. David W. Frost of Ipswich, Mrs. S. Joseph Hoffman of Andover, Mrs. Robert S. Lee of Beverly Farms, Mrs. Barbara C. Perry of Boxford, Mrs. Charlton D. Putnam of Rowley, and Mrs. Alvin F. Schwartz of Exeter.

Allies' Family Barbecue and Field Day

Despite the drizzle, 250 hardy GDA students and family members attended the annual Allies' Barbecue and Field Day on Sunday, September 30th, held inside the Alumni Gymnasium. After enjoying Gene Sumner's barbecue, supplemented by salads and desserts donated by the parents, many played volleyball, ran relays, or joined in the tugs-of-war led by parent John Robertson. (We won't tell who won the parents vs. students pull!) A warm welcome was extended to all GDA families by the Governor Dummer Allies.

Wanted

The Allies are looking for any generous donors who might have a 35mm camera or an aluminum boat to donate to the school!

David Powell, photography teacher, is in need of a 35mm camera in good working condition to loan to students enrolled in his photography classes whose cameras have failed to work during the course. In the past, students who have experienced camera breakdowns have fallen behind, and the loan of a camera would alleviate this problem.

Douglas L. Miller, Chairman of the Science Department, is hoping to find a 12 to 14 ft. aluminum boat to be used by biology classes for a variety of projects and lab work on the two Academy ponds and in the Parker River. The department already owns an outboard motor which would fit on the boat.

Kindly call the Academy if you can help us out with either item.

CORRECTION

In the last issue of the Archon, the name of Edgar Dunning was inadvertently omitted from the list of "Old Guard" faculty in whose honor various classrooms were renamed on Reunion Day.

We deeply regret this omission. A classroom in Parsons Schoolhouse was in fact dedicated to Mr. Dunning.

The second paragraph of this story should have appeared as follows:

"To recognize his many years of teaching English, the Seminar Room in Frost Library was dedicated to Mac Murphy. For his years of teaching French, Roy Ohrn was memorialized by the dedication of the Language Laboratory, and for a long and distinguished career which included development of the popular Glee Club, Art Sager was honored through dedication of the Music Room. Two rooms in Parsons Schoolhouse commemorate the years of service from Ben Stone and Ed Dunning, and "Uncle Tom's Cabin", the English classroom in Noyes Library, was named for Tom Mercer."

ROGER COULTER, FIRST MORSE FLAG RECIPIENT, DIES AT 82

It was over 66 years ago, at the 150th Commencement Exercises, that the first Morse Flag was awarded through the generosity of the late Reverend Glenn Tilley Morse, Rector of All Saints Episcopal Church in West Newbury.

Roger Coulter, the first recipient in that spring of 1913, was a distinguished young man bound for Williams College and, later, Harvard Law School before embarking on a successful partnership with the Boston law firm of Parker, Coulter, Daley and White.

This fall, on September 29 in Cohasset, Roger Coulter passed away at the age of 82 leaving behind a legacy of accomplishment and service to his family, his community, and his school.

A native of Baltimore, Roger served in the Marine Corps in World War I and graduated as a member of the class of 1918 from Williams. In World War II he again served with the Marines, after which he ended his military career with an honorable discharge and the rank of major. Roger's friendship with the Academy, which spanned most of his life, included twenty years on the Board of Trustees, from 1949 to 1969; during that period many changes were experienced within the school. Two capital fund drives resulting in considerable renovation and construction, expansion of the drama and art programs, and policy change all occurred during his term on the board. Roger's experience and wisdom helped provide a steadying influence for the difficult task of trusteeship during those volatile years.

Few schools can count among their ranks alumni as supportive as Roger Coulter. His dedication to the Academy and his commitment to high standards — both personal and academic — have left their mark on a school whose growth he aided when growth was needed, and to which he gave invaluable guidance. We count ourselves lucky to have known such a man. Roger will be missed.

FORMER FACULTY MEMBER HONORED AT EXETER

It was announced this fall that Charles A. Hamblet of Phillips Exeter Academy's Department of Mathematics has been named a Bicentennial Professor, supported by the William R. Kenan, Jr. Charitable Trust of New York for the five-year period of 1979-84.

Many Governor Dummer alumni will remember Chuck Hamblet from his years on the faculty as a teacher (1967-70), highly successful basketball coach, and acting head of the Math Department (1969-70).

In announcing the appointment on September 12 at the ceremonies opening Exeter's 199th year, Principal Stephen Kurtz stated, "... Mr. Hamblet has served with distinction in every important phase of the Academy's life — as a teacher, athletic coach, and dormitory supervisor. His dedication to duty and responsiveness to our changing needs have set an example of what it means to be a first-rate schoolman in the demanding environment of a boarding school ..."

DEFERRED GIVING AT GOVERNOR DUMMER

The Academy's new Deferred Giving program makes possible a larger gift than you may have thought possible . . . and pays you income for life.

How would you like the satisfaction of making a substantial gift to Governor Dummer while not giving up any income?

Or, does the idea of actually increasing your spendable income, while helping GDA to plan for the future, appeal to you?

These are just some of the advantages which may accrue to a donor who participates in some of the plans now available to alumni and friends of Governor Dummer through the Academy's Deferred Giving program.

What is Deferred Giving?

The term "Deferred Giving" refers to a number of options, most of which were created by the Tax Reform Act of 1969 in order to encourage philanthropic giving. There are many variations, but basically a plan works as follows.

First of all, an individual decides that he or she would like to do something substantial for Governor Dummer Academy. Normally such a donor might simply give cash, securities, or other property directly to the school. But in this case he finds that he is unable to make an outright gift as large as he would like because he is dependent upon the income which his assets generate.

Therefore, he irrevocably transfers certain assets — usually cash, securities, or real estate — to a trust, which assumes responsibility for the investment of these assets. The trust agrees to pay income to the donor for the rest of his or her life. What's more, on the death of the donor the income may also be paid to the donor's wife or husband (or any other designated person). On the death of this beneficiary, the assets held in the trust become the property of Governor Dummer.

But there are other advantages to the donor beyond the life income provided by this kind of Deferred Gift.

First, there is a substantial income tax deduction in the year in which the gift is established. The amount of the deduction is determined by official government tables, and is dependent upon the age and sex of the donor and/or the beneficiary (the older the donor, the greater the income tax deduction).

Another advantage is that the donor frees himself of investment concerns, since this responsibility is assumed by the trustee who administers the trust.

The donor's estate will benefit by an unlimited estate tax deduction, and by a saving on probate costs. These particular savings are also available for a gift by Will, but with a Deferred Gift plan there is the additional advantage that the donor receives recognition and the satisfaction of knowing during his lifetime of the good work that his benefaction will promote.

Increasing Your Income

In some cases, the establishment of a Deferred Gift plan actually results in an increase in the donor's spendable income. This occurs when the gift is made with highly appreciated assets which are producing relatively small income.

For example, suppose that you own securities which you acquired many years ago and which are now worth far more than you paid for them. The stock is paying a dividend of only 2% or 3%, but realistically you cannot reinvest in stock with a higher yield because you would be liable for a huge capital gains tax. The trust, however, can sell the stock without being taxed and can then invest in securities paying 8% - 9% or more, depending on current interest rates. You have thereby greatly increased your income, and you will receive it for the rest of your life.

Common Deferred Giving Plans

The plan which will probably be of greatest appeal to most alumni and friends interested in making a Deferred Gift is the Governor Dummer Pooled Income Fund. In a Pooled Income Fund, the gifts of many donors are commingled and each donor receives his or her share of the earnings. Since the funds do not have to be managed separately, participation in a Pooled Income Fund requires a gift of a smaller amount than do some other Deferred Giving plans.

Other commonly-used vehicles include the Charitable Remainder Unitrust and the Charitable Remainder Annuity Trust. With the former, the donor receives a fixed percentage of the trust's assets; with the latter, he receives a fixed amount each year for the rest of his life.

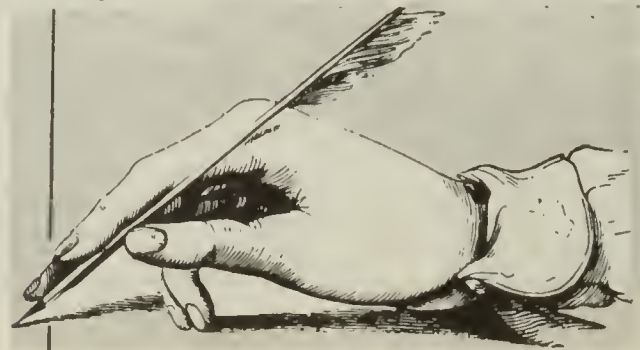

Another option is the gift of a home or farm with retained life residency — that is, the donor gives his home to the Academy but retains the right to live in it for the rest of his life. Again, there is an income tax deduction available, which would not be the case if the donor simply left his home to the school in his Will.

Finally, life insurance offers an opportunity for a Deferred Gift. If you have a life insurance policy that has outlived its need, you may give it to the Academy and deduct the total premiums you have paid or the cash value of the policy, whichever is less. Alternatively, you may take out a new policy naming the school as beneficiary, and take an income tax deduction for the premiums.

In Summary

Deferred Giving often makes a gift possible when otherwise none could have been made; it can also allow a much larger gift than an interested donor may have thought he could make. Unlike a bequest, it makes possible a significant gift during the donor's lifetime. It provides income for the life of the donor and his spouse. It allows a substantial income tax deduction. It permits the avoidance of capital gains taxes and often allows reinvestment of assets for higher yield. It permits the donor to rid himself of investment concerns. It provides benefits for the donor's estate.

In all cases, you should consult your legal advisor if you are considering the possibility of a Deferred Gift. For detailed information on any form of a Deferred Gift, please contact the Development Office at Governor Dummer Academy, Byfield, MA 01922; telephone (617) 462-6643. It will probably benefit both you and the Academy.

FALL ATHLETICS

Football

Despite the loss of 19 lettermen from last year's squad, the football team finished with a 5-2-0 record — the second best in a decade. The team averaged well over 300 yards per game on the ground, and senior Marty Stephan led the entire North Shore area with 12 touchdowns (despite a short season) and finished the year as the record-holder in virtually every rushing category. Four players received All-League honors, with another four chosen to the All-League Second Team.

The Governors had a season full of the best competition available, since the schedule pitted the team against most of the strongest teams in the independent ranks. They started by beating St. Sebastian's, a team picked by many to win the League championship, by a score of 30-25. The Buckingham, Browne & Nichols game produced perhaps the hardest hitting of the year and a 24-12 GDA victory. Then came Thayer, considered at that point in the season the best team in the League. Trailing 7-6 with less than 30 seconds remaining, the Governors scored on a 4th-down-and-seven play to pull out a 12-7 win.

Then bad luck came in twos. First there was a 24-14 upset by Brooks. And with the score tied 32-32 in the waning moments of the Groton game, Groton stunned the Governors with three touchdowns in 24 seconds and a 56-32 final score.

The team reverted to form in the final two games, with strong performances against St. Mark's and arch-rival Belmont Hill for victories of 36-6 and 32-6 respectively. Get your tickets early for next season; the Governors should be strong again.

Soccer

The 1979 varsity soccer team came under new management for only the fourth time since the sport was begun at Governor Dummer in the 1930's. Coaches Mike Mulligan '71 and Bob Cole have breathed fresh vitality into a group of young inexperienced players who, with the help of only one returning letterman, were able to compile the most wins in the Gummere Cup League since 1965. Their 4-4-2 record also placed them fourth in the League, the second best standing since '65.

MVP Amir Ahari was usually surrounded by opposing players.

The difference was discipline, organization, and teamwork which inspired pride and confidence within a team which had little returning leadership. Pre-game dinners sponsored by coaches Mulligan and Cole helped to inspire team morale, and with humor and good spirit practices were conducted to teach hustle and determination which turned a building year into a successful season. Despite the loss of Most Valuable Player Amir Ahari, graduation should not greatly affect a team comprised mainly of underclassmen.

Women's Soccer

Another team which will be left virtually intact from graduation is the women's soccer team which, following a 6-4-1 season, will enjoy the return of a complete starting lineup next fall. Scoring honors were shared by junior Sue Perry and Erica Baum, the only graduating member of this year's squad, with four goals apiece. Other outstanding performances were contributed by offensive players Ann McCullom '81 and Bonnie Perkins '82, and by defensive players Carole Austin '81 and Heather Perkins '81.

At the Varsity Awards Dinner, Sue Perry was named Most Valuable Player and co-captain along with junior teammate Sally DeGan. Leadership and talent are in no short supply for next year, and it may come to pass that one of the newest varsity sports could have one of the best records of all.

Field Hockey

Sparked by the scoring of juniors Tracey Meehan and Antea von Henneberg and senior Julie Duff, the 1979 field hockey team compiled a respectable record against difficult competition.

Ashley Van Etten goes for the ball while Pam Kurtz prepares to help out.

With the help of eight seniors, the team achieved some notable victories over schools such as Groton, Exeter, and St. Paul's which traditionally prove to be strong. The team upended previously unbeaten Groton 1-0 with a goal from Antea von Henneberg in the waning moments of the game. In another close contest, a 0-0 tie with St. Paul's was averted by an overtime goal from Tracey Meehan, and against Exeter the girls emerged the victors with a 4-0 score over another traditionally strong team.

In addition to outstanding performances from Duff, Meehan, and von Henneberg, Coach Betsy Clark cited Liz Evans for excellent defensive skills which greatly added to the team's success.

REPORT FROM THE PARENTS CO-CHAIRMEN

We are extremely pleased to report that current and past parents responded to the 1979 Annual Fund challenge as never before by contributing a record $38,886 — a healthy increase over the $28,886 raised in 1978. The number of donors was also up from 293 to 305, and 46% of all current parents joined the donor ranks last year. To the many contributors and phonathon callers who donated their gifts and their time, our deepest thanks.

Through their commitment and their concern we are able to speak confidently about the financial future of Governor Dummer.

William Brine P'80

ANNUAL FUND REPORT

A WORD FROM THE CHAIRMAN:

One of the joys of being Alumni Fund Chairman is that one receives credit for other people's efforts and generosity.

The fund figures for this year speak plainly for themselves, but they do not reflect what has created the climate for giving: excellence of performance by a superior faculty and staff, term after term, year after year.

Add to this group the alumni, the parents past and present, the Trustees, the Development and Alumni Executive Committees, the Class Agents and the host of untitled workers and givers that make up an elite body — one to be very proud of.

I wish I could take credit for this. I can't, it belongs to all of you.

Putnam P. Flint '37

DIRECTOR'S REPORT

1978-79 was an especially rewarding year in at least two ways. First, the 11% Annual Fund increase from $120,081 to $133,370 in unrestricted gifts guaranteed once more a strong Academy that will continue with confidence into a new decade. Secondly, the $7,370 that was contributed beyond our $126,000 goal became just one more reaffirmation of the continuing support and rising enthusiasm among our alumni, parents and friends.

Our deep appreciation to alumni, parents of current and past students, and friends, who supported GDA this past year as never before. Alumni donors increased from 970 to 978, parents increased from 293 to 305 donors, and friends increased their donor ranks by one from 65 to 66.

Phonathons continued to attract an increasing number of gifts from all groups and our success has been the result of tremendous volunteer support. This past year, 69 individuals calling on eight different evenings from New York and Boston elicited pledges of nearly $25,000.

Reunion classes were another source of strong leadership and this year the classes of '29, '39, '44, '49, '54, '59, '64, '69 and 74 increased substantially both dollars and donors in celebration of their anniversaries.

As we begin the 1980 Annual Fund Year, we do so with confidence that our volunteer leadership is equal to the challenge of helping to raise this year's goal of $135,000 in unrestricted funds. To our chairmen and their agents; to our phoners and, above all, our donors, we extend our thanks for their efforts in making 1979 the record year that it was.

CLASS NOTES

When the Archon asked John Chandler to comment on his activities, his reply was short and clear: "I am depressed by the Panama Canal give-away, inflation and real estate taxes."

'31

On May 26, Rollins College presented Carl Buechner with the degree of Master of Science in Management. "As I am about everything, I am a little late getting to this accomplishment — and I am not sure how I will use this honor, but I am quite proud of having made the grade." Carl is 66.

'37

Richard Curtis writes that he took retirement in June and is enjoying the company of his two daughters, their husbands and six grandchildren, all of whom live nearby.

Emerson Kirby is now concluding his 17th year as Purchasing Agent and Traffic Manager for Branford Wire & Mfg. Co. in North Haven, CT. His son Peter graduated from Gettysburg College last spring.

Olie Olsen has won the Vail Award for his prompt action in reviving a heart attack victim last year (Archon, Spring '79). The award was established by the founder of AT&T and will be presented through Western Electric from which Olie is now semi-retired.

Ted Bergmann has been elected the Alumni Association Representative from the Los Angeles area. All alumni in Southern California are urged to make known to him any comments or suggestions they have about the school.

'38

Richard Cary is the Director and President's Ambassador to the Niagara Falls Area Chamber of Commerce. He is also the immediate past president of the Niagara County Historical Society.

'39

Charles Hewitt is Director and Investment Counselor of Vilas-Fischer Associates, Ltd. in New York. He still manages to play both winter and summer tennis, and continues to trout-fish in the summer and spring.

Don Stockwell writes, "Had a great time at our 40th! See you at the 50th!"

'41

Bill Abbott now lives in Boxford and is in occasional contact with Buster Navins, Art Sager and Mac Murphy.

Ernest Bowler is the advertising manager for the Nissen Baking Co. in Portland.

Sheldon Carbee is living in Greenfield, NH and runs a company called Greenfield Industries with his wife and son. Sheldon tells the Archon that he had a good visit with Dick Wyman last year. Dick is doing some drawing in his new home in Florida.

While trying to retire from his medical instruments business, John Hastings still manages to stay involved, though he claims his "best time" is spent aboard his ketch.

John Hunter is in the real estate business in Ann Arbor and recently told Dave Goodhart that he saw Lew Harrower a year ago and would like to hear from Lee Whittles.

Fred Jellison is now a grandfather. He also continues his insurance adjustment business in New Jersey.

The father of six boys and two girls, Guy Nichols works as a manufacturer's representative in Cincinnati and sells to aircraft companies. With children ranging in age from 30 to 10, the Nicholsons summer in Birch Point, Maine.

Michael Terry is a marketing consultant in Connecticut, and Normand Tronerud continues to exhibit his art in the North Shore area and teach French at Marblehead High School.

Louis des Cognets has a paper business in North Adams, MA and is also a selectman in Williamstown which is reportedly one of the better managed towns in the East. Louis says his grandson may become a third generation Governor Dummer student.

Retired as City Attorney of Fort Worth, TX a few years ago, Gordon Johndroe is now in private practice with the same firm that employs his son.

William Noyes is working in the real estate development of New England Telephone and helps his daughter raise sheep on the side.

Living in Buffalo and working in the wholesale fish industry, Tom Collins informs the Archon that he has a daughter who is a travel agent living in Alta, Utah; a son looking for oil in Gillette, Wyoming; and a daughter in college in Buffalo.

Dick Cleaver has sold his packaging business and is helping the new owners get off to a good start.

Neal Cox is running a foundry in Connecticut, and Harold Knapp still works for the Institute of Defense Analyses. A resident of Germantown, Maryland, Harold comes to Boston each spring for the Marathon and has a recorded time of 2:56 for his race in 1979. Presently, Harold is testifying before the Senate on the results of studies he conducted several years ago on radioactive fallout in Utah.

Frank Kirkpatrick tells us that his new general store in Peru, VT is thriving, and from Andrew Little comes word that he is in the lumber business and is a little concerned with high interest rates.

Wilbur Webster is a yacht broker in Maryland, while Cushing Strout continues to keep the standards high at Cornell where he is a professor of English.

"Both older children, Mary a junior, and John a freshman, are at Wake Forest University," writes John Chapman. "Harriet, age 10, is in the 5th grade and I'm still in insurance — no change, just a little older."

Tragic news of the passing of Walter Wheelock, 56, reached the Archon this October. A resident of Uxbridge, he died at a nearby hospital shortly after suffering a heart attack. A fifth generation member of a textile family which operates Stanley Woolen Co., Walter was Assistant Treasurer of the company and an avid geneologist. He privately published "The Wheelock Family in America (1637-1969)," ten years ago.

'43

Tim Pouch continues as President of Pouch Terminal, Inc., which specializes in warehousing, trucking, export packing and loft and office rentals. Tim still plays tennis and continues to enjoy his six children, the oldest of whom, Alec, just graduated from B.C. "He has a very proud father."

'44

Franc Skirball is now in his 24th year with American Airlines "putting the ever-changing airline fares into the computer."

Nathaniel Dummer received his Master of Architecture degree from Washington University in December and has been employed for over a year with Drummey, Rosane, & Anderson, the architectural firm which converted Lang Gym into the Schumann Science Center. "Our baby daughter, Alyssa, will have begun teething by the time you read this. Ouch, my ears . . . and her gums."

Robert Hadley is the minister at the First Church Unitarian in Littleton, MA.

For the last ten years, Peter Wiles has been conducting cruises on the Finger Lakes in upper New York State through the Mid-Lakes Navigation Company of which he is founder and president. The company is the only one of its kind to offer cruises on all the canals of New York State. Many of the trips are dinner cruises and all feature a narration of local history and the origin of the canal system.

'47

Kevin Gaffney is now retired from the State Police and is employed as a private investigator for a Massachusetts company.

Stephen Spacil '48

'48

Stephen Spacil has been elected a Fellow of the American Society for Metals for his distinguished "contributions to the understanding of high-temperature thermochemistry and kinetics applied to improved performance of materials" in several fields. Stephen's step-son, Jared Squires, is a member of the senior class at GDA.

'49

Tom Davidson and his wife, Karen, still maintain their home in York Harbor and an apartment in New York, where their business is located.

'50

John Ives writes that he is currently the West Africa Director for United Technologies, based in Lagos, Nigeria. His son Andrew and daughter Angela are turning into real "internationalists," having lived in Beirut, Jedah, Summit, NJ and Lagos over the past five years.

The Archon regrets to report the death of Joseph de Berry who was among the 273 people killed in the May, 1979 crash of a DC 10 airliner while taking off from O'Hare International Airport in Chicago. He was 47.

A resident of Portland, Connecticut, Joe was advertising, sales and production manager for Choice Magazine, a book review publication of the Association of College and Research Libraries.

A Native of Senora, TX, Joe de Berry was a great grandson of poet Henry Wadsworth Longfellow. He is survived by his wife Carol and his two daughters, Erica and Carolyn.

'51

Still in private practice as a general surgeon, Peter Whitney is also Associate Director of Surgical Education for the Tucson Hospitals Medical Education Program, the Program Coordinator for the Tucson Medical Center at the University of Arizona, and coordinator of the Tucson Hospitals Surgical Residency Program. Peter has a black belt in judo and enjoys skiing, backpacking, trap shooting and painting. Peter and his wife, Karen, have four children: Kate, Tom, John and Annabel.

The cover of the 1979 Christmas catalogue for the Massachusetts Audubon Society was drawn by Guy Tudor '52.

Marc Lowell has moved his business into a new 40' x 64' building which he designed himself with help from his family and friends. The new structure houses a new company, M. Lowell & Sons, which has expanded into equipment sales as well as a towing service which was busy last year with the stormy weather.

'54

Dick Michelson is currently Director of Corporate Transportation Systems Analysis for the Boeing Company in Seattle. He and his family are enjoying the northwest and welcome any GDA visitors who get out that way. Dick visited with GDA Admission Director Mike Moonves during a recent trip to Seattle.

Dodd Miles has been elected the Governor Dummer Alumni Association Representative for the Dallas area.

'55

Albert Hubbard has been elected Director of the Counsel Division of T. Rowe Price Associates, the Baltimore-based investment research and counseling firm. As a Vice-President and Director, he also serves on the Policy Review Board.

'57

Ed Beebe is the owner and operator of the Beebe Real Estate Company in Hollis, NH, specializing in custom homes. The company also develops raw land and sells existing real estate. Ed and Cindy have two sons, Peter, 13 and Johnathan, 9.

Wink Pescosolido writes that he continues as a farmer in California.

'58

The First 26 Miles Are the Hardest, an article written by Kevin Leary following his first marathon last year, describes in vivid detail the agony of victory — finishing. Kevin is a reporter for the San Francisco Chronicle and lives in Kentfield, CA.

Ward Miles writes that he is still a pilot for TWA following his departure from the Air Force in 1968. His two children, Jennifer and David, are ages 15 and 13 years.

Walter Cannon continues to pursue an active general and thoracic surgical practice. His four children are avid skiers and Walt himself continues to upgrade his gliding skills and equipment in preparation for the nationals this summer.

Louis Platt is working with students in a missionary capacity at the University of Bonn in West Germany.

Pete Bostwick has just finished a year as visiting Assistant Professor of Geography at the University of Hawaii's Hilo College campus. Plans for the future may include working for the Geography Department at the main campus in Honolulu or moving to the west coast.

'60

Rick Benner and Larry Martin are both at Hampden-Sydney College in Virginia. Rick joined the staff in 1977 as Director of Counseling and placement. Since graduation from Amherst in '64, Rick has taught school in France and held several personnel management positions in Boston and Washington. Larry joined the Hampden-Sydney faculty in 1969 after finishing his PH.D in medieval literature. He now chairs the college's English department.

Tip Jones is a lecturer in mathematics at the University of Connecticut in Waterbury.

Charles Stewart is teaching Political Science at Meredith College in Raleigh, NC.

Gregg Meyer looks forward to the prospect of returning to GDA this spring for his 20th Reunion.

'61

Currently the Central Regional Manager for Owens-Corning, Albie Booth also coaches hockey and plays with a team one night a week in the Toledo area. Albie and his wife vacationed in Grand Cayman this past winter with David Stringer and his wife Dina.

Fred Bissell is telling his tennis students that the key to life is simplicity which is a process of elimination. "I'm going back to the good earth."

"We are now living in Poquoson, VA where we bought an old farmhouse which we are restoring," writes George Hartman. He is currently an assistant professor in the engineering division at Nelson Community College in Hampton, VA and spends much of his time sailing his Grand Banks Dory with his wife.

Frank Bond is in his second term in the New Mexico House of Representatives where he was elected the minority whip.

After a ten-year teaching career, Denis Golden has launched his own production company for which he writes, produces and acts. In addition to the production of ads for broadcast television, the Golden trivia show is the most widely viewed cable T.V. show in New England, his WHDH Radio show has top ratings, and his "preposterous" stage show has been to 21 States and Canada. Denny claims that he won't be satisfied until Ed Kleven, his classmate and personal manager, peddles the Golden baritone to the Met.

Jim Gordon has left his job as material control supervisor for Teradyne, Inc. in Boston and is getting a little homesick for the west coast. Though he likes New England, he writes that he will probably take a job offer in the Seattle area if he gets one.

'64

Peter Thomas is currently a Research Associate at Cornell working on Viking pictures of Mars, and Voyager pictures of satellites of Jupiter.

'65

John Gregg is the father of a son, Stephen Judd, age 4, and a daughter, Katherine Kinder, age 2½.

'66
